

3 DAY, 4 NIGHT

BEACH
MOUNTAIN TRAIL

SUMMARY

Day 0

Arrive mid-afternoon at overnight accommodation for dinner and bed.

Day 1 - Farm215 to Witkrans Farm approx. 4 Hours

A shortish day through the fynbos mountains along the Kraaibosch dam, through Flower valley, a large valley filled with fynbos and indigenous forests and a Unesco supported project for sustainable fynbos harvesting and education.

Day 2 - Witkrans Farm to Stanford River Lodge approx 5 Hours

We will pass through Grootbos Fynbos Nature Reserve, famous as a botanical hot-spot. Before we reach De Kelders (Gansbaai - a fishing village) we will head west through the coastal shrubland and traverse the vast magical almost surreal sand drifts (Grys Dunes) of die Plaat. The mysterious landscape will give way to the beach.

We ride through the Walker Bay Nature Reserve to the unspoilt white beaches of the Walker Bay whale sanctuary. This is arguably the best land based area in the world to watch Southern Right whales (whale watching capital of the world from June to December - whales and their calves often come within metres of the coastline). Admire these magnificent creatures and their 'aquabatic' displays, splashing, crashing and blowing, breaching, lobtailing, spyhopping and sailing close to shore.

Enjoy the long, sandy beaches and experience the thrill of beach gallops. Halfway to Hermanus, we turn into the Dunes and head for the Kleinriver and the oasis of Stanford. We sleep at Stanford River Lodge with time to swim and canoe in the river.

Day 3 - Stanford River Lodge to Farm215 approx. 7 Hours

This is the long day. A full 37km takes us back along the beach, through dunes and over two mountain ranges back to Farm215.
